ORDINANCE NO. 06-2019

(Introduced by the Hon. Clemente S. Dumlao Jr.

Sponsored by the Committee on Rules, Privileges, Ordinances, and Legal Matters)

AN ORDINANCE INSTITUTIONALIZING AND MANDATING FAMILY BACKYARD GARDENING IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF DELFIN ALBANO, ISABELA, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Explanatory Note

Local Government Units (LGUs) are at the forefront in the battle against hunger and malnutrition at the community level. As agents of the government, the LGUs are empowered by law to undertake programs, projects, and activities which they deem relevant, attainable, and responsive to the local situations and circumstances of hunger and malnutrition issues in their respective localities.

In the hierarchy of human needs, food remains to be at the topmost level. And government agencies and apparatuses are most effective in their mandates and responsibilities if issues related to food production, availability, and sufficiency are addressed.

In the United States and elsewhere in the Western World, a growing concern on the quality of food sold at supermarkets and groceries have driven a number of individuals to taking up the responsibility of growing their own food. In the Philippines, we are no strangers to growing our own food. In the past, backyard gardening is at its high when practically all households have their own respective vegetable patches and gardens.

AN ORDINANCE INSTITUTIONALIZING AND MANDATING FAMILY BACKYARD GARDENING IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF DELFIN ALBANO, ISABELA, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

However, with the passing of time, vegetables now grown by only a few are made destined to the markets where they are bought by the ever growing number of consuming public. A shift from being producers to becoming consumers have virtually obliterated the practice of backyard gardening.

Perhaps, it is time that we bring back the good practice that is backyard gardening, especially with the growing problem on hunger and malnutrition. With this end in mind; hence, this Ordinance.
